In 1973 The Starkey Hearing Foundation started with a simple premise: “Alone we can’t do much. But, together we can change the world.”

With “So the World May Hear” as his goal, Starkey Hearing founder William F. Austin built an organization upon this vision.

Today the foundation is sustained by the efforts of thousands of volunteers and donors around the world. Your support allows us to deliver more than 20,000 hearing instruments annually through more than 100 hearing missions a year.

In addition to giving the gift of hearing, the foundation promotes hearing health awareness while supporting research and education.

Everything The Starkey Hearing Foundation accomplishes is able to happen because of one person - you.

Tens of thousands of hearing instruments, more than 100 hearing missions to continents across the globe and hearing education everywhere the Foundation goes all happen through the many donations that start as the donation of one.

Give the gift of hearing. Recycle your hearing instruments.

Thank you, for giving the gift of hearing.

Since 2000, more than 279,290 hearing instruments have been distributed to needy persons worldwide.

Those hearing instruments get repaired or parts are salvaged to build new hearing instruments.

"It’s important for us to help the children because they’re the future of the world - and if we neglect the children, we diminish our future. This is a very special thing we do for the children. It is something from which they’ll always remember us. Our reward is in the faces and smiles of each person as we help them hear again. This is the best work we could ever do because it’s helping people... and that’s what life is all about. We truly live through what we give - we live on into the future through our gifts back into our community and to humanity."

William F. Austin, Founder, Starkey Hearing Foundation

Giving the gift of hearing means children and adults around the globe are smiling, laughing, singing, learning and growing.
